

'It ain't what you do, it's the way that you do it and that's what gets results'

A course on relational leadership and the impact of emotional intelligence on school improvement

"It ain't what you do, it's the way that you do it" examines the essential leadership behaviours that lead to longer term impact. This motivational course provides time during the day to explore and reflect on leadership behaviours that really matter with a mixture of practical ideas and academic research:

- What is the future you want for the children in your school?
- What do we mean by "results" and how does this align with your values?
- How do you get everyone to understand the big picture and vision?
- How do you create buy in and energy to drive school improvement forward?
- Why is emotional intelligence and relational leadership vital?
- How do you create a culture of trust and collaboration?
- Why is momentum important in driving your vision forward and how to maintain it?
- How do you know if your values are having impact?

Why book with us?

"Stuart Herrington has nearly 20 years' experience as a Senior Leader, including two successful headships. Stuart is the Director of Improving Impact, a company that focusses on leadership coaching and development, and believes that it is people who make the difference."

Don't just take our word for it. Turn over to read feedback for this course.

How do I book?

Email improvingimpact@gmail.com or call 07917711837

We would love to hear from you.

Improving Impact

It's people who make the difference

Improving Impact

It's people who make the difference

"Absolutely hit the nail on the head Stuart. Thank you. I wanted a day for our leadership team to have time together as a team to reflect on what we do well and to think how we move to the next level. It seamlessly took us through a sequence of activities that was real food for thought. Motivational, inspirational, thought provoking."

"Fabulous musical mood from the off! Honest, meaningful, interactive delivery. Reflective elements were very useful and thought provoking. Sat here wishing I had had the opportunity to have worked under your leadership."

"The whole day was really useful and engaging. I loved Stuart's sense of humour and the variety of activities. It really enabled me to reflect and made me think. It's rare that you walk out of something without criticism but today is one of those days!"

"The whole day was very interesting and encouraged me to reflect on my leadership skills and practice. Your presentation and organisation of the day was a good mixture of discussion, imparted knowledge and related to our own experiences as participants"

"A great day with lots of realistic ideas and thoughts to reflect on. A lot of the concepts can be applied quickly and the outcomes can be easily identified. It was great to have a motivational course that was realistic to the busy lives of middle leaders."

"A very positive day! Allowed me to reflect on errors I've made in the past as well as positive parts of my practice and how they can continue to be developed. Nice to share ideas"

"Relevant training with real ideas that can be applied straight away. It was great to have such a positive course which didn't include unachievable expectations about our role as middle leaders. Motivational to keep us focussed on our own 'main thing' within the school's main thing."

'It ain't what you do, it's the way that you do it'