

'Say less, ask more'

Two days of quality thinking time to help you find your own solutions to your own school improvement opportunities and challenges

"Say less, ask more" gives you time to reflect and respond to your current main school improvement challenges, by focussing on what you really want and how to achieve this.

This two day coaching course:

- Looks at how adults learn best
- Focusses on the key principles of coaching
- Shares coaching tools and techniques you can use back in school
- Builds in practical sessions to develop your listening and coaching skills, including the quality of questions you ask
- Gives you valuable thinking time so you can find your best solution to opportunities and challenges in your setting
- Considers how self-limiting beliefs can hold back leadership, teaching and learning
- Develops awareness of different forms of resistance and possible ways to respond to these.

"The more I have time to think about the past two days, the more I want to say a huge thank you Stuart. You are just the 'wow' moment and catalyst that we need to move school that next step forward. Truly inspirational."

"Really enjoyed the course – feel the skills have been developed through a clear structure which will allow me to retain and use these from the word go. A clear mixture and balance of theory / activity and modelling."

"So refreshing and uplifting – both coaching and being coached."

"Really useful; I was feeling very frustrated and stuck, but have some interesting avenues to explore now."

"Emotionally exhausting but worth it. Enjoyed taking the time to think it through."

"Intense. Thinking outside the box challenged my thinking."

"I enjoyed this much more than I expected after attending a coaching course in the past which I felt uncomfortable at."

"Refreshing. It was positive to offload and to have actions to deal with issues."

"Therapeutic and empowering – it reminded me why I do what I do and that I CAN do it."

"Emotional. I fully enjoyed the 3 different roles undertaken throughout the days and found the reflection and conversations helped focus and improve me to help others, as well as myself."

"I have really enjoyed the two days. You have a lovely manner and are really engaging."
